

JOHN M. WARD SEES FOURTH BIG LEAGUE

Another World's Series Will Be Arranged With Feds, He Proposes.

PLENTY OF ROOM FOR IT

There are no leagues in the near future will be the subject of the fourth big league. John M. Ward, who is the president of the Brooklyn Federal League, has just issued a statement in which he says that he is not in favor of a fourth big league. He says that the Federal League is the only one that is worth anything and that it is the only one that is worth anything.

Ward is no doubt in my mind that there is plenty of room for a fourth major league and that in time the public will have its eyes opened to the fact that the Federal League is the only one that is worth anything and that it is the only one that is worth anything.

John H. Rush

Newly appointed head coach of the Princeton football team, who is to have supreme power. In his undergraduate days he never played on the Tiger varsity eleven, but was such a great star as a sprinter on the track team that he earned the nickname of Speedy Rush, which has stuck to him ever since. His experience as a football coach has been confined to Cleveland's big preparatory institution, University School, where he turned out consistent winners and many great players who afterward became famous in college.

the uplift of the game. About 25 per cent of the credit belongs to the players and 75 per cent to the New York newspapers. I know, for I was through the mill.

Baseball didn't amount to a hill of beans till 1883, when the New York papers first took to the game seriously. From that moment its future was established as a signal success. And that is the reason," concluded John M. Ward, "that the Federal League is going to have an independent rival with a stronghold in this good old town."

Hugh A. McKinnon, one of the leading spirits of the Federal League, has been in the East for more than a week trying to learn an independent league of minor caliber as a farm for surplus Federal League talent. McKinnon and his associates hope to be able to employ certain stars of the New England and Eastern associations to swing a circuit of eight clubs. They have designs upon Hartford, Springfield, New Haven and Bridgeport of the Eastern Association and Lynn, Lowell, Lawrence and Worcester of the New England League, which operated under protection in 1914, was flouted by Federal League capital. The Ward brothers of Brooklyn are supposed to have invested most heavily in the Colonial enterprise.

The business men of Hot Springs, Ark., have notified Barney Dreyfuss that White Sox, where the "Princes" will train, has been fitted to the highest degree of major league excellence. Dreyfuss is partial to Hot Springs because he is safe from interference on the part of the Federal League scouts. A court injunction prevents agents of the independent operating in Hot Springs. This injunction was granted last year against Howard Cannon, the former Red Sox pitcher, when he attempted to wear away some of Fred Clarke's players.

Clark Griffith has just signed a young southpaw of Jersey City, Herbert Thormahlen, who should do fairly well if there is anything in a name. The young man is already a six footer, though only nineteen years of age. His experience has been confined to semi-professional ball, but he has been highly recommended for a trial by Scout Jack Ryan.

John M. Ward says that the Federal League did not go to court with its new franchise, and it will be a big blessing to all who have the interest of the game at heart. For the player it will broaden the scope of his opportunities. For the owner it will increase the value of his property. For the fan it will broaden the scope of his opportunities. For the owner it will increase the value of his property. For the fan it will broaden the scope of his opportunities.

GIANAKOPOULOS WINS WITH HELP OF GEIS

Millrose Pair Capture Five Mile
Team Race at Games in Brooklyn.

ELLER CLIPS HIS RECORD

Hannes Kolehmainen and his partner, Arthur Fogel, the junior cross-country champion, were crowded out of the prizes in the five mile team race, which was the advertised feature of the Brooklyn college games held in the Thirtieth Regiment Armory, Summer and Jefferson avenues, Brooklyn, last night. The race was one of the best of that style of competition ever run off and it was only in the last half mile that Nick Gianakopoulos and Matt Geis of the Millrose A. C. worked into a lead that insured them victory by fifty yards. Even then there was a bitter battle on for the place, with Sid Leslie snatching second honors for the Long Island A. C. by passing the plucky Horton of the New York A. C. in the last lap.

Jack Eller was flying over the hurdles in his best form and in the final heat of the 120 yard handicap over the low hurdles he just nailed A. L. Engels of the Central Collegiate Union School. Eller was forced to the limit and in winning clipped two-fifths of a second from his previous indoor record of 14 2-5 seconds. W. Hirsch of the New York A. C. followed in second place, while Leslie, never could keep pace with the Irish crack and finished in third place.

Relay races were sprinkled over the programme, and of these the one mile relay was the most interesting. The team of the Erasmus anchor appeared to have matters his own way, but kept looking around until he saw a couple of runners hot foot after him. One was Eddie Pearson of Manual Training, who started the last quarter twenty-five yards behind. Pearson and the last man, though the Prep closed so fast that in the last fifty yards the pair were fighting it out with the Erasmus boys. Half a yard would have covered the trio at the finish, and the judges delayed some time before they announced that Erasmus had won and Manual Training was second.

Alvah Meyer was shut out in the second round of the 70 yard handicap, which produced a sleeper, so far as the handicapper was concerned, in James Byrne, an unattached runner. His allowance was 12 feet, though many persons in the armory recalled his victory in the 65 yard novice at the Xavier games in 7 4-5 and another win at the Thirtieth Regiment games at 100 yards in 10 4-5. Byrne, who was a little closer by being penalized six feet for two false starts, but even with this reduction of the handicapper's mark he won comfortably.

PUBLIC LINKS GOLFERS LIKE CHICAGO SYSTEM

Letter to Commissioner Whittle
Tells How Well Things Are Run at Jackson Park.

Golfers who use the public links in Van Cortlandt Park have renewed their efforts to obtain better playing conditions and accommodations. The latest attempt to better affairs has taken the form of a letter sent to Park Commissioner T. W. Whittle by a golfer named George V. Lincoln. This letter contains an elaborate comparison of the situation at Van Cortlandt and Jackson Park, Chicago, and its object is to make plain the fact that Chicago treats its golfers much better than New York does.
